

A Week of Splendid and Unusual Offerings

Many extraordinary, between-season bargains in Women's and Misses' Skirts, decided savings in women's new spring Rain Coats and Silk Shirt Waist Suits.

This week we begin an early showing of new designs in White Goods for the spring season.

A great display of the newest Dress Gingham on sale at 10c a yard.

An attractive assortment of Mercerized Printed Fabrics at 15c a yard that vie with some of the new silks for beauty.

Phenomenal special bargains will be found among the new Silks and Dress Goods.

McCall's Magazines, Fashion Sheets and Stylish Patterns at 15c for March are now here for you.

Eight months ago we gave an import order for a thousand German made Clothes Brushes, which are usually sold for 25c each. This set of brushes has arrived and are being sold as the famous 10c brush of Harbour's Department Store. No such brushes can be had elsewhere for 10c. Nearly everybody whose attention is called to them buys one, two or more.

THOSE LOW PRICES FOR CLOTHING—Sensational as they may appear in booming advertisements we guarantee to more than match them, value for value. It will cost you nothing to come here and look and post up on what low prices for good all wool, perfect fitting silk sewed, correctly tailored Suits, Overcoats and Pants ought to be. If you will do yourself the kindness to come and look before you buy we believe that you will find yourself wiser and better off.

SHOES FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN AT A GREAT SACRIFICE—Some are broken lots, some are sample lines, some are from bankrupt failures. No other house will sell you shoes of equal merit at lower prices.

Men's Gum Boots at $2.50 to $3.00 a pair. Boys' Gum Boots at $1.25 to $1.50 a pair.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS

Observations taken at 7 a. m. River 18.1 on the gauge, a fall of 0.4 in the last 24 hours. Weather clear and cool. Temperature 35 with east winds. Indications for warmer weather.

SAUNDERS A. FOWLER,
Local Observer.

The Henrietta, after waiting several days for coal, got away today to Florence, Ala.

The Red River is waiting at Smithland for the ice to run out, break up or sink so she can get above Birdsville for a tow of corn to take to Nashville.

The coal famine is broken, the dealers having secured a supply of fuel.

The combine barge which sank at the foot of Jefferson street night before last, has been raised. All the slack off the coal was lost, which amounts to about half the cargo, but the lump was saved.

The Russell Lord arrived yesterday from Tennessee river and will go back today for another tow of ties.

The Little Clyde will go into Tennessee river Monday.

The Dick Fowler cleared for Cairo with a good trip this morning.

The Victor is due today from Tennessee river with ties.

The Fulton is due out of Cumberland river with ties.

The Kuttawa is working with the sunken Mary N. today and will prepare her for raising. The managers of the St. Bernard Mining Co. this morning stated that the boat would be afloat within four or five days and that it was thought little damage is done. The delay in raising the craft was occasioned by the rising water and cold weather, but chains are being run under her and every preparation made to get her afloat again.

The Inverness has arrived from Tennessee river.

The Charles Hook returned from Cairo.

The Butteroff is due from Nashville tomorrow and leaves on her return to Cumberland river Monday, going to Clarksville.

The Kentucky leaves this evening for Tennessee river.

The Castalia arrived from Tennessee river with ties.

Capt. James Owen is suffering from slight burns on the arms and hands sustained by his bare robe catching fire from a match.

Mr. L. P. Holland, of the Ayer & Lord Co., went to Eddyville this morning on business.

The marine ways has such an abundance of work on hand that it is necessary to secure additional men and Mr. Alex. McCarty has gone to Chicago to secure them. It will soon be the season of high water, and it is desired to get all the work now on hand finished before that time.

The O'Neil and tow are safe at West Franklin. The new locks and dam at Ford, on the Kentucky river, have been damaged considerably by heavy ice and thousands of loose logs.

Capt. Ross Powell of the Corwin H. Spencer, is laid up with the grip on the boat at New Orleans.

The Pittsburg Gazette says: "Not in many years have rivermen been confronted with so serious a situation as at present prevails in the Ohio. The river is gorged in a number of places and the empty craft along the banks are in the greatest danger of being crushed when the ice lets go. The Ohio is gorged in the main channel at Browns Island and the back channel there is closed by a dam. The Dave Wood was to have

PITTSBURG WOMAN

Wants to Explain the Mysteries of the "Talking Tree."

Mayor Yeiser has received a letter from a woman who read the fake published recently about a "talking tree" near Paducah, and who wants to come to Paducah and "solve the mystery." She gives the name of Madam Reno, and lives in Pittsburg. The eastern papers, always glad to get any kind of fiction for their Sunday papers, published the story of the "talking tree," and the woman saw it and wants the city to pay her expenses, give her a fee and care for her while here. Mayor Yeiser regards this as one of the most unusual official letters he ever received.

He will of course pay no attention to the letter, as the tree yarn was sent out first as the "weeping tree" and when this was worn threadbare, the story was renovated and made into one of a "talking tree." The mayor thinks if the woman can solve the "mystery" of a talking tree that no one knows anything about, she can solve it at a distance as well as at close range.

KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHS LATE BASEBALL DOGS

Manchester Postoffice Fight.
Manchester, Ky., Feb. 18.—There are four applicants for the Manchester postoffice. The fight is an interesting one and each of the applicants expect to win. Judge James Eversole, the incumbent; Squire R. G. Peid, who is at present deputy circuit court clerk; James T. Morgan, and Mrs. Mary Howard, wife of Jas. H. Howard, who is at present confined in the Louisville jail awaiting the decision of the supreme court of the United States on his case, having been convicted for the alleged murder of William Goebel, is also an applicant. She was the last to get up a petition, but nevertheless she has some good indorsements and a strong petition.

Rebuilding Wesleyan College.
Lexington, Ky., Feb. 18.—At a meeting of the board of curators here President James K. Patterson, of the Kentucky State College, appeared before them and tendered them the free use of the college class rooms, laboratories, etc., for the remainder of the school term. The curators are discussing only the question of rebuilding the college at Winchester, and there is no proposition to remove it to any other city. The town of Winchester donated $40,000 to the erection of the building which was burned and will assist in replacing it.

Cree Compromised.
Cadiz, Ky., Feb. 18.—The damage suit of W. J. Sizemore, of this county against the Illinois Central railroad company, for $1,999, has been compromised by the railroad, paying the defendant the sum of $1,000.

Owens the Bonds.
Henderson, Ky., Feb. 18.—Henderson county has made the last payment to the Gravel Road company and now owns four miles, or twenty-six miles, of gravel roads. It is thought the miles will be extended to the county line.

New Elks' Lodge.
Cincinnati, Ky., Feb. 18.—Calletsburg Lodge, No. 942, D. P. O. E., has held its first meeting and initiated thirty-three candidates, after which the officers elected February 3, were installed. An elegant banquet followed at the Alger House. The degrees were conferred by District Deputy Stuart, of Frankfort.

NO COLD WAVE

REPORT CIRCULATED THAT ONE IS PREDICTED FOR TO-MORROW.

Warmer Weather Expected—Flood Warning Has Been Sent Out by the Government.

It has for the past two or three days been reported that the coldest day of the season has been predicted for tomorrow, Sunday. This is a mistake. There is only one reputable, scientific weather prognosticator, and that is the government, bureau. The government sends out forecasts often wrong.—It is true, once every twenty-four hours, except Sunday, and the predictions for tomorrow are for warmer weather, with rain or snow, instead of for "the coldest day of the season."

The government has sent out a flood warning through the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri river valleys, however, and says that owing to the large amount of snow and ice, should there come a sudden thaw or heavy rain, immense quantities of water would be released, and 60,000 perhaps disastrous floods. People liable to suffer or be affected should accordingly be on the guard.

Perhaps your neighbor, who never worries about the servants problem, has solved it by simply making a practice of sending the want ads.

Secretary Shroba was able to give out a bit of news Thursday that will bring joy to the hearts of the late Henderson, Morgan, one of the favorites of last season's pitching staff, has accepted terms, and will be among the first to report. For a time he was holding out for more money than the club could afford to pay but a letter has been received from him stating that he was willing to return to a compromise figure.—Henderson Nierner.

The Henderson Cleaner gives this estimate of what it takes to run a baseball club through a K. I. F. season.

Maybe the star second baseman of the Hopkinsville team last year, who was later taken by Minnesota, has been signed by the local management. He will be welcomed with joy by the local fans.—Princeton, Ind., Under.

Charles Kirkman, a third baseman and pitcher who hails from Sullivan, Ind., has signed a Princeton contract for the coming season. He will be tried in both positions.

Last fall when Paducah was playing Vincennes, Girard, of Paducah, was taken sick suddenly and Kirkman, who was on his way to Sullivan on a visit, volunteered to play for it. He accepted every charm and played a good sensible game. Since the Manager, Charles Ray has kept the us him and now has his signature on a contract.

Ray expects signed contracts from two first-class pitchers within the next few days. One has an 18-
